

Transformative Education for a Better India: President Droupadi Murmu Launches 'New Education for New India' Campaign

(President Droupadi Murmu launches 'New Education for New India' campaign, emphasizing moral values and the transformative role of education for societal well-being and positive change.)

(Source: News on AIR)

In a significant move towards fostering values and uplifting the consciousness of students, President Droupadi Murmu inaugurated the 'New Education for New India' campaign organized by Brahma Kumaris in Sambalpur, Odisha on November 22, 2023. The campaign, aimed at instilling moral values in students, reflects the government's commitment to holistic student development. President Murmu's address emphasized the pivotal role education plays in societal transformation and the importance of moral and human values in shaping responsible citizens.

Inauguration Ceremony:

The inauguration ceremony witnessed President Murmu addressing the audience, highlighting the crucial role education plays in societal transformation. The emphasis was on the significance of moral and human values, such as service, equality, and sympathy, as the foundation of Indian culture. The President called upon the youth to familiarize themselves with these ideals and actively contribute to societal well-being.

Promotion of Positive Values:

(Source: India Education Diary)

During her speech, President Murmu underscored the need to instill a positive attitude towards moral and human values in the minds of children through education. She expressed the belief that moral education is instrumental in shaping individuals and fostering positive changes in society. The President stressed the importance of cultivating qualities like compassion, kindness, friendship, and fraternity.

Role of Moral Education:

President Murmu emphasized that moral education serves as a guiding force in building lives and bringing about positive societal changes. It cultivates qualities that can lead to positive transformations in individuals, ultimately contributing to the creation of a better society. The President commended the efforts of Prajapita Brahma Kumaris Ishwariya Vishwa Vidyalaya in facilitating the path to happiness, peace, and joy through character-building, self-realization, and divine experiences.

National Education Campaign:

(Source: The Times of India)

The launch of the 'New Education for New India' campaign aligns with the National Education Policy, emphasizing the importance of education in the mother tongue for the intellectual development of children. President Murmu highlighted that the new policy would play a crucial role in building a New India. She stressed the importance of technology and the preservation of cultural values, asserting that India's development is possible only through the convergence of these elements.

Educational Transformation for a New India:

President Murmu's address underscores the transformative power of education in shaping the future of India. The integration of moral values into the education system aligns with the government's vision for a holistic and value-based approach to student development. The 'New Education for New India' campaign marks a significant step towards realizing this vision, aiming to create responsible citizens who contribute positively to society.

The President's Vision for Education:

(Source: Kalinga TV)

President Murmu's vision for education goes beyond academic excellence. She envisions a system that not only imparts knowledge but also instills values that form the bedrock of a strong and compassionate society. By emphasizing moral and human values, she aims to create a generation of individuals who are not only intellectually capable but also morally upright and socially responsible.

Moral Education as a Catalyst for Positive Change:

The President's emphasis on moral education as a catalyst for positive change is noteworthy. She believes that by instilling values like compassion, kindness, friendship, and fraternity, moral education can bring about positive transformations in individuals. These positive changes, she asserts, will collectively contribute to the creation of a better society.

Acknowledging Prajapita Brahma Kumaris Ishwariya Vishwa Vidyalaya's Contributions:

President Murmu acknowledged the efforts of Prajapita Brahma Kumaris Ishwariya Vishwa Vidyalaya in providing avenues for character-building, self-realization, and divine experiences. The organization's commitment to the path of happiness, peace, and joy aligns with the broader goals of the 'New Education for New India' campaign. The acknowledgment reflects the government's recognition of the valuable contributions of non-governmental organizations in the education sector.

National Education Policy: A Paradigm Shift:

The President's reference to the National Education Policy signals a paradigm shift in the approach to education in India. The emphasis on teaching in the mother tongue for the intellectual development of children reflects a commitment to cultural diversity and linguistic richness. The policy's focus on technology and the preservation of cultural values indicates a balanced approach that leverages modern advancements while safeguarding the nation's cultural heritage.

Technology and Cultural Values: A Symbiotic Relationship:

(Source: Zee5)

President Murmu's assertion that India's development is possible only through the convergence of technology and cultural values underscores the symbiotic relationship between tradition and progress. While advocating for technological advancements, she simultaneously emphasizes the need to preserve and promote cultural values. This dual approach reflects a nuanced understanding of the interconnectedness of India's rich cultural tapestry and its potential for technological innovation.

Youth as Agents of Change:

The President's call for the youth to be inspired by moral and human values and actively contribute to societal well-being positions the younger generation as agents of positive change. By encouraging them to care for the elderly and support the deprived sections of society, she envisions a future where the youth play a proactive role in building a compassionate and inclusive society.

Positive Attitude Through Education:

President Murmu's emphasis on creating a positive attitude towards moral and human values in the minds of children through education underscores the transformative power of educational experiences. By integrating values into the curriculum, the education system becomes a tool for shaping not only knowledgeable individuals but also morally conscious citizens. This proactive approach to education aligns with the broader goals of the 'New Education for New India' campaign.

Date : 25th Nov 2023

Important News Analysis

English

In conclusion, President Droupadi Murmu's launch of the 'New Education for New India' campaign is a significant step towards realizing the vision of holistic education that goes beyond academic achievements. The integration of moral values into the education system, as emphasized by the President, is a crucial element in shaping individuals who contribute positively to society. The acknowledgment of the role of organizations like Prajapita Brahma Kumaris Ishwariya Vishwa Vidyalaya and the alignment with the National Education Policy signals a comprehensive and collaborative approach to educational transformation. As India moves towards building a New India, the transformative power of education, guided by moral and human values, will play a pivotal role in shaping the future of the nation.

